Q: Problem with join and show results in one query I have the following two tables: Cars: it has many RentalData RentalData: contains information about vehicle rentals The table "Cars" has, for instance, the following fields: Id (PK) CarName The table "RentalData" has, for instance, the following fields: Id (PK) VehicleId (FK to Cars.Id) RentalDate StartDate EndDate Here is the problem: I am building a search form that lets the user select a date range for the search. The form is built so that when the user selects a specific date range (e.g. from September 15th to 20th), the form is filled with Cars that have a "RentalDate" between the two selected dates. I was thinking of doing this like this: `SELECT CarId, CarName FROM Cars WHERE (RentalDate >= @StartDate and RentalDate = @StartDate and RentalDate = @StartDate AND rd.RentalDate`
