of the people living in the Lands Between, a world between the light and the dark, are threatened by an ancient evil that seeks to take over the Lands Between. The ancient race of elves, known as Elden, is summoned to the Lands Between to play a vital role in protecting the people of the Lands Between. The elves claim that the Elden Ring, a symbol of power brought down from the Legend of the Dragon to the lands between by the Dragon King, grants its user unparalleled power in battle. However, the Elves are forced to release the future Elder God from the prison of the Dragon King. The Elden Ring, or an object of the exact same power, is produced by the enemy of the Elves, and two warring parties are drawn into conflict over the fight for the heart of the Dragon King, who draws on the strength of the Demons and the personifications of the gods of the universe. Having fallen into this conflict, the character of the Elves, in the form of the Warrior, must fight to get the Elden Ring back, protect the people of the Lands Between, and fulfill their destiny.

There is where i get lost.Friday, December 08, 2013 Donating money to NDRC is really clever, because NDRC will also be able to play closer to home... Our mission is to help low-income people live successfully through decent and affordable housing, basic income, emergency shelter, and other forms of assistance. Aid grants of up to $7,500 are given to people who need housing assistance, and all assistance is in-kind, not cash. Donating to help those in need provides additional chances to help. UniversalGiving helps donors connect directly to organizations working on the ground to build a better world. A portion of each donation goes to support our Partners, the Non-Profit Organizations who distribute the funds to the Programs. Articles to Read March 10, 2010Courtesy of The Tuckersby Aaron Kirby We are grateful to write on behalf of Oakley-Dinston Playground in Washington DC. The staff has been working to restore and resurface play equipment from a major summer construction project that enabled the playground to reopen to the public in June. The newly established outdoor play area welcomes children of all ages and abilities in a safe and inviting environment where mutual enjoyment and respect is evident. This playground provides a wide range of play features (infill) such as climbing structures, balance beams, slides, and other fun, safe equipment (softball/baseball diamonds for 2 groups of four each). It is the first of its kind in the District and is an excellent example of DC fostering and promoting inclusive and safe play environments for children of all abilities. Major construction jobs in the area that would have caused the playground to remain out of service for a significant amount of time or demolished the playground have been prevented by DC's Department of Parks and Recreation. That program not only protected the playground from destruction, but also created an area for children to get more naturally active in, and children are becoming more active as a result. Parks and recreation is committed to providing more and safer public space for all residents in DC. Inspired play is in the heart of what makes us human. Children play because they want to explore, have fun, and express themselves. If your nonprofit is thinking about expanding your volunteer program or adding additional staff, consider the benefits of providing children and youth
