Field of the Invention The invention relates to an image processing apparatus, and more particularly, to an image processing apparatus and method which can be shared by a plurality of users. 2. Description of the Related Art Recently, various types of image processing apparatus that can share images using a network such as the Internet have been developed. One of the image processing apparatus that can share images is an electronic photo album. In an electronic photo album, a user creates and stores various types of images using a wide variety of options. The stored images are displayed on a single image display and shared with other users using a network such as the Internet. More specifically, after a user clicks a mouse on an image displayed on the single image display to select it, a preview image of the selected image is displayed together with an image of a user who has previously created the image. In addition, a user who clicks the mouse on the preview image of the previously created image receives the preview image together with an image of the user who has previously created the image. Furthermore, an electronic photo album system which supports a function to collectively save all images which have been selected and reviewed in the manner described above is developed. When a plurality of users share images through the Internet, the users who have created the shared images need to verify whether or not the created images have been
