What's new in Mount & Blade: With Fire & Sword:

DLC 249 The battle continues in this third DLC chapter, "With Fire & Sword" for "Mount & Blade: Warband", from Eko Software, Sanyo Entertainment, 2K Games and The Bridge Studios. We will guide you through the adventure in this new campaign, cover new content and give you a sneak peek of this release. How will we do it? By covering the "Mount & Blade: Warband" chapter "With Fire & Sword". First though, if you want to get a sense for the campaign, check out the video below. And remember to start watching it from the beginning to avoid spoilers. To play the video, click here. In this episode we will touch upon: Sons of the Crusade - Chapter 2: The Nightwind More cavalry and textured graphics. Deaths that hurt to see. The return of castration. Orcs with teeth. How the Orcs like each other in the kitchen. Time to dunk a golden plate, because the Orcs are here. "Mulburnes toimilinni aijiilage k s si!" You can find the old-style "Mount & Blade: With Fire & Sword" quests/campaign walkthrough in our strategy guide. -

Introducing Son of the Sun - The battlefield is on fire. Back in the lands of you and your ancestors, fierce battles have torn your countries apart. You, the Son of the Sun and his sons, the Sunless, pride yourselves on unmatched skill and strength in battle. But the thirst for vengeance has led your armies to hunt down the Orcs in the south. After sacking three border settlements, the Orcs have spilled across a bridge. The time has come to take back the lands lost so many years ago. This goal takes more than military strength. To capture a fortified Orc stronghold, no less than three heroes will need to storm the captured gates and capture the town hall. There, under the archway, lies the Lich-King of the Orcs - an evil Sorcerer, who haunts the halls as a lich should. He's bloated with power and must be stopped. Stolen magic could be used to strengthen his armor and the enemy can only hope the Son of the Sun sees him in such short order as to have no time to draw on it. When the Sun

The sanctions include a ban on importing meat and dairy products, fruit and vegetables, and imports of alcohol. "Receiving such restrictions from any country is counterproductive for the crisis resolution in the region and blackens the image of Poland. It is hard to think about a constructive dialogue," Russian Finance Ministry spokeswoman Irina Volk explained. Read more She added that the Polish government believes that the country's maintenance of the sanctions is primarily directed at Russia. "Besides, it's worth noting that the restrictions on EU companies which operate in Russia are focused on those sectors of activity which are associated with the Russian defense industry," Volk went on to say. Poland's decision to impose the ban was allegedly in
