AutoCAD's Markup assist feature has evolved. Markup Assist automatically marks up your drawings for you, and you can open and edit the result on-screen, enabling you to incorporate the help of your team and make more informed decisions during the design process. Markup Assist can now import comments, notes, and other annotations directly from PDF files. Open existing PDF documents from within AutoCAD or from other software and import comments and notes from those files in the same way. This makes it possible to receive "first look" feedback and incorporate it into the design process earlier and more efficiently. Creative Controls provides an innovative visual means to help control the components of a drawing. With this powerful new capability, you can graphically control, manipulate, and hide layers and blocks in a document. To make this easy to use, the new controls include a familiar hand-drawn look. The creative controls can be used in addition to or instead of the regular control features.

Native 3D support Take advantage of native 3D in AutoCAD by modeling and drawing in 3D space. Share work in 3D with Autodesk 360, the industry-leading cloud collaboration service. Create in 3D
