Authorities are investigating the death of a man who was found with gunshot wounds Friday near the second-story window of an apartment in north Loop West. An off-duty officer from the Dallas Police Department was driving north on the 5900 block of North Shepherd Drive about 9:15 p.m. Friday when he heard a man, later identified as 23-year-old Eduardo Garcia, yelling, "help me, help me." The officer quickly stopped his vehicle and approached the man, who was lying on his back in the street. Garcia was still alive when police arrived. He was taken to Baylor University Medical Center, where he later died. No information was available on a possible motive for the shooting, and police have made no arrests. If convicted, the charge of murder carries a punishment of 5 to 99 years or life in prison. There is no information on a possible suspect at this time. Update 4:35 p.m.: Mark Stiles, special investigations director for the Dallas Police Department, said the shooting was domestic-related. Garcia, who was shot in the chest, was taken to the hospital, but it was unknown where he lived.
