For an app I am working on, there is a UINavigationController containing two different UIViewController objects inside of it as its subviews. The first VC is always the first view that the user sees, and the second VC is always a detail view. I am using the code below to show the second VC when the first one is tapped: `pageViewController.viewControllers = [NSArray arrayWithObjects:SecondViewController, nil];` When the second view loads in, I am trying to scroll it into view by doing this (on the second VC): `CGRect visibleRect; visibleRect = [self.view.window convertRectToScreen:self.view.frame]; [self.view setFrame:CGRectMake(0, 0, self.view.frame.size.width,self.view.frame.size.height)]; [self.view setBounds:CGRectMake(0, 0, self.view.frame.size.width, self.view.frame.size.height)];` The problem I am running into is that my VC will still not scroll into view. Is there something I am missing in my code? A: `[self.view setFrame:CGRectMake(0, 0, self.view.frame.size.width,`
